STAY SECURE WHEN THE CLOCKS GO BACK

Sussex Police would like to remind people to make sure their homes are secure as the clocks go back this weekend.

With the onset of autumn people's homes will begin to look more vulnerable to burglars.

Burglars are usually opportunists and will take any lucky chance they are confronted with – leaving windows and doors open, increases their opportunities.

Homeowners are being reminded to double-check the security of their home and install timer switches.
People should ensure that:
- When going out, all windows and external doors are locked, using the keys,

- When going to bed, you secure all windows and you key-lock front and back doors, removing your keys from view.
- Items of value, including presents, are not left on display;
- Install timer switches and set them to make your home look occupied even when it isn't.

Should you want further crime prevention advice please contact you local crime prevention officer or member of your local neighbourhood policing team by calling 0845 60 70 999.
